

Abstract of the Disclosure:

A refrigerating appliance includes a heat insulating housing and an inner chamber that is cooled by the circulation of cooling air. A hollow body extends in the inner chamber,
5 defining a flow channel for the cooling air. Carriers for goods to be cooled are disposed in the inner chamber and are supported on the hollow body.

GLM/nt